

COOKIES POLICY

A cookie is a small file stored on your device (e.g. computer, mobile phone or tablet). Cookies are useful for enabling personalisation of your access to our online services. They may be used for an authentication, a session, or to store specific items of information such as Website and/or Application preferences.

Storage of cookies is performed via the web browser employed by the User (e.g. Internet Explorer).

There are four types of cookie:

1. "Session cookies" are deleted from your computer when you close your browser. The cookies are necessary for the proper operation of the Website and the Application.
2. "Persistent cookies" remain stored on your device after the closure of your browser and enable Edenred Luxembourg:
  - to remember preferences and actions of the user on the Website and/or on the Application and to propose tailored content;
  - to collect general data (non-nominative), to collect anonymous statistics enabling the evaluation of the Website and the Application, to improve the Website and the Application, to detect errors and malfunctions and remedy the latter;
  - to analyse the efficiency of advertising campaigns, to know your centres of interest, to provide targeted communication, including the provision of targeted information on products and services made available by Edenred Luxembourg and, possibly, third parties;
3. "Internal cookies" emanating from the Website or the Application.
4. "Third-party cookies" emanating from other domains/applications.

The use of session and internal cookies does not require prior authorisation of the user when they are necessary for the operation of the Website and the Application.

The use of any other cookies requires the prior authorisation of the user via a consent operation (opt-in). If the user consents to the use of all or part of these cookies, Edenred Luxembourg shall use a persistent cookie which will store the cookie preferences of the user for future visits to the Website and the Application.

The cookies are secure. A cookie in no event gives access to the user's device or to any information other than what the user chooses to share.

The user may limit the use of cookies or deactivate them using the settings or options of their browser. Using their browser (Firefox, Chrome, Internet Explorer, Opera, Safari, etc.), the user may also examine and delete all or part of the cookies stored on their device. The user may find relevant instructions by consulting the "Help" menu on their browser or by following the links:

- Google Chrome <https://support.google.com/chrome/#topic=7438008>
- Internet Explorer <https://support.microsoft.com/fr-be/hub/4230784/internet-explorer-help>
- Safari <https://support.apple.com/fr-fr/safari>
- Firefox <https://support.mozilla.org/fr/>

The Website and the Application or some of their features may then possibly stop functioning.
The Website and the Application use the following cookies:
